

Dear _____,

HO, HO, HO from the North Pole!!!!

Christmas is almost here which means you can finally start making the days off your calendar!

This year has been quite different for us here in North Pole, just like I know it's been very different for you. But even with everything going on, you still managed to get on the top of my nice list and I wanted to say that I'm so proud of you.

Me and my elves have been very busy preparing for the big day. All year long we have been making new and shiny toys and games to deliver to all the good boys and girls all over the world.

Before you know it, my sleigh will be all packed up, ready to go, and I will be flying across the world putting (little dolls, toy trains, remote cars), and a bunch of other toys under everyone's Christmas trees. I get especially excited when there are milk and cookies left out, and Rudolph and the rest of the reindeers love the carrots and apples as a little sweet treat!

_____ I see that you've been doing excellent with your school work this year and I wanted to tell you myself to keep up the good work. The elves have informed me that you're _____ years old. My jolly golly you are growing so fast!

Well _____, I better get going, Mrs. Claus is busy cooking up a big meal for me and getting the Elves all organised for Christmas Eve. _____ is one of my first stops this year, so make sure you both get to bed nice and early on Christmas Eve. Thanks for working so hard to be on the nice list, and remember, Christmas is the perfect time to show someone just how much you care about them. It never takes a lot to show a little bit of kindness.

Merry Christmas _____!

Love from,
Santa Claus x
